Statement for Publication

Xplore continues to operate to high standards and to demonstrate considerable expertise in the activity holiday market. Staff at all levels are well-trained, energetic and enthusiastic about their work. There is a creative use of technology to run operations across the different centres and communications are excellent. Centres are well-supported by the Head Office.

Junior welfare continues to be a strength of the organisation. This is evident through staff training, attention to detail in risk assessments, the level of supervision of students and in the meticulous recording of all accidents, incidents and concerns, no matter how small. The organisation's responsibilities under the Prevent strategy are understood at management level but need to be supported by more formal training for staff.
